

FORGIVENESS FOR OUTLAW PLAYERS

Their Errors Will Probably Be Wiped From Slate
by Commission.

MANY DIFFERENCES WILL BE ADJUSTED

Magnates Will Meet at Cincinnati
This Week, and Many of the Uncertainties of Winter Baseball Will Be Settled—Decisions Anxiously Awaited.

NEW YORK, January 2.—When the National Commission meets next week at Cincinnati some of the uncertainties of winter baseball will be settled, and perhaps a few mild sensations may be caused in the good measure. As far as Greater New York is concerned, decisions in the cases of Hal Chase and Jimmy Sebring will be awaited with interest. Sebring has formally applied for reinstatement, and the Brooklyn club stands ready to accept him the minute he is wiped off the blacklist. Chase, it is believed, will not make application for reinstatement, for the simple reason that he has never been declared an "outlaw." The New York club has never officially protected his activity in "outlaw" ball on the coast, and there is no formal charge of contract-jumping against him. It would seem that the commission cannot take drastic action in his case.

As matters now stand, Chase is under the ban for playing with and against men who are considered "outlaw" players. Members of the Washington, Chicago (American) and Minneapolis teams are in the same boat, because they played with independent teams in and around Chicago after the close of last season. There are no many of these offenders, and the commission probably will whitewash them all by assessing small fines.

There is no reason to suppose that Chase can be indicted on any other charge, but in order to be on the spot should any complications arise, Frank Farrell, left, for Cincinnati to night. The commission sits next Monday. Ebbets will not take the trip, as Sebring's case is thoroughly understood.

Kelley's "Ironclad."

Joe Kelley is another petitioner. He wishes to know if a baseball contract is binding on a club owner. Kelley has an "ironclad" two-year contract calling for $5,500 a season, from the Boston club. There was no ten-day release clause. President Pulliam, of the National League, helped to draw up that document, and witnessed the signature. It looks like Kelley will have to draw his money from Boston without batting an eye in the service of the club. But the National Commission is likely to sidestep Kelley's appeal.

Several years ago Patsy Donovan, lately deposited as manager of the Brooklyn club, tried to collect $2,500 from the St. Louis club for unpaid salary, and was informed that the commission was not a "collection agency," although the merit of the claim was not denied.

Donovan had a contract calling for $3,000—it was during war times, and he had been offered big money by the American League—but he never got all of his money. Included in the $3,000 was a bonus of $1,000 for winning.

Donovan took two notes for $500 each from the St. Louis club, and the notes maturing the following May. He was paid at the rate of $3,000 a season, receiving a check for something like $700 every two weeks.

Early in the fall Donovan contracted pneumonia, and was away from his team for weeks at a time. He drew no money, and the season ended with the Robisons owing him about $2,500, besides the two notes which had matured, but were still unpaid. Donovan waited for his money, knowing that his employers were hard pressed. Early in February he was released from his contract for Charlie Nichols, who had been engaged as manager. Donovan did not sign, claiming that his accounts with the Robisons should be settled first.

Idle Half a Season.

The upshot of the matter was that Donovan remained idle for the better half a season. He appealed to the commission, which did not deny his claim, but refused to collect for him. Thus did the National League stand for a club defaulting on a player. The St. Louis club claimed that Donovan was not entitled to salary at the close of the season on account of his frequent absence from the team. But that was a silly defense. Donovan could not even get his release to accept the manager of the Washington club. He was advised to attach the gate receipts of the St. Louis club, but always hesitated about plunging into litigation.

By this time his claim, with interest on the notes, amounted to nearly $4,000. The Washington offer was open to him only a short time, so Donovan, foreseeing a summer of idleness, the St. Louis club still had him under reserve, though paying him no salary—agreed to compromise. He got less than $2,000 out of the St. Louis club, virtually buying his release for $1,500.

Whether Donovan was worth a big salary or not did not enter into the merits of the case. He had the contract, and that was enough. Joe Kelley has a contract, and he is going to get his money he stands a fine chance of collecting it in a court of law. The National Commission probably will tell Kelley that he and Donovan must settle the matter.

Hugh McLennan Wins.

BOSTON, MASS., January 2.—Hugh McLennan, of Chelsea, the American middle distance motor race champion, defeated Albert Edward Willis, of England, holder of the motor-paced record for one hour, in a twenty-mile motor-paced race at the Spark Square track to-night. The time was 33:51.4-5 seconds. Willis' bicycle broke down in the sixth mile, and the race was suspended. McLennan took advantage of the accident, and when they resumed, increased his lead. At the finish he won by a lap and three-quarters.

A ten-mile open professional race won by N. M. Anderson, of Denmark, minus 100 feet, and John Russell, both of New York, finished second and third, respectively. Time, 22:51.

Many Small Automobile Shows
Are Now in Progress in New York.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NEW YORK, January 2.—While the automobile show of the makers in the Grand Central Palace will close on Thursday night, there will be a number of smaller shows in local salesrooms that will continue to keep open during the interval between the end of the palace show and the opening of the Madison Square exhibition Saturday night, January 16th.

All of the individual shows are being run this week on the same time schedule as the large show.

The show of the American Locomotive Company is being held in the Waldorf-Astoria for the second time. From now on the cars are to be known under the name of "Alco," which is to be kept open Sunday for the benefit of those who cannot see the shows on week days.

Cutting Is Chief.

General John T. Cutting, while commander of the Old Guard and a pioneer in the motor industry, is the chief of the racing committee at the private show of oldsmobiles in the roomy salesroom at Broadway and Fifty-first Street.

The Buick cars are another make that will not be displayed at either the palace or the garden exhibitions. All of the latest models, as well as a finely polished chassis and the little racer with which Ewing Elster won in one of the classes of the motor parkway, sweepstakes, are being shown at the Buick branch, on Broadway, near Fifty-fourth Street.

The fine new building of the Palmer and Singer firm, on Broadway, near Fifth Street, is used for a private show of various Palmer and Singer models and the Simplex. The Jotta-Fraschini also shares in this private show. This suit is another car that will not be shown at either of the big shows, but is being displayed on Broadway, near Sixty-eighth Street.

THORPE AND PYNE WON

Messrs. Thorpe and Pyne won the two prizes offered last week on the Lake Bowling Alloys, their totals being 120 and 101, respectively. He held the highest individual score for the week in the knockouts, averaging 120 to his credit, and Master C. L. Cosby, with 203, was the leader in tenpins.

The marks on Tuesday night in the contest for the first prize are as follows: Wilkes, 106; Watkins, 103; Ellis, 101; Beck, 101; Pyne, 100. POWHTAN HEARS MUSIC OF CHASE

Riders and Hounds Have Had a Right Merry Week of Sport.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

POWHTAN C. H., VA., January 2.—The sweet music of the chase made for fox-hounds in full cry, the hunter's horn and the merry laugh of a happy party, was heard in this vicinity for several days during the holidays.

William V. Thraue returned from Oklahoma for the Christmas season, and some of his old fox-hunting friends came to his home for a big hunt this week. No place in Virginia has more foxes, better hounds and hunters, and dispenses such hospitality as this immediate section of the State. Thraue, Bent, the home of the Thraues, is known far and wide as the ideal place for the hunter to go and spend a week amid scenes like those in "The Olden Days of Virginia."

Last week at the old home many noted hunters, with their fleet-footed packs, assembled to join in the sport of all sports, "the chase." The crisp atmosphere, tempered by the genial sun, kept the ground in ideal condition, while the gentle south wind soothed the hearts of the eager hunters. In the gray dawn of each morning the hunters went forth into the shady copse and tangled coverts, searching for wily old Reynard.

He was found each day and caught after he had led dogs and hunters on a merry chase of many miles. Five foxes were caught during three days' hunt, which fact, to all hunters, speaks eloquently of the sport this party had.

Dr. George W. McDaniel, of Richmond, showed that he was an expert rider and fox hunter by being first in the "hill" on two occasions, and this in the face of the fact that such hunters as Marion Walton, Tom Timberlake, Ed. Broadrick and William Thraue were on the field.

Mr. Walton, who has for many years owned one of the finest packs in the State, has reason to be proud of his dogs. He and his neighbor, Tom Timberlake, with their combined packs, led by Daisy and Nig, have caught thirty foxes this season, without a single failure to catch.

Among others in the party were the Rev. Powhatan James, of Nowata, Okla., who has been spending the holidays with his friends in Virginia; Miss Alma Thraue, who follows the hounds on her thoroughbred over the highest fences and widest ditches; Mr. Oscar Thraue, of football fame, who gained much of his hardihood by hunting; and Mr. John Thraue.

Canadian Is an Easy Winner, Italian Quitting in Nine- teenth Round.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BUFFALO, N. Y., January 2.—Tom Longboat, the Canadian, to-night for the second time took the measure of Dorando Petri, the Italian, who almost won the great Marathon at the London Olympic. Dorando, as in his race with Longboat in New York, failed to go the distance. Time and again he sprinted in an effort to get away from the Canadian, but without success.

It was 9:05 o'clock when the men were sent away to a good start. Dorando sprang into the lead and set a terrific pace for the first few laps. Longboat, with the broad grin on his face, stuck close to the Italian, not allowing him more than three or four yards' lead.

The time for the first mile, 5:07, was 7-5 seconds faster than the first mile of this week. Mr. F. B. Jacobs, Mr. Hugh Nelson, Miss Nancy Nelson, Mr. William E. Randolph, Mr. Estlin Randolph, Mr. Townsend Burr, Mr. George Burrell, Jr., Mrs. Henderson, Mr. Ed. Lindsay, Mr. Winston Lindsay, Mr. James Lindsay, Mr. Kenneth Clapp, Mr. W. W. Dove, Mr. Donald Gilpin, Mr. Frederick Sturges, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Day, of New York, Mr. Lamont Dominick, of New York, Mr. John Lindsay, Mr. Will Dearmont, Mr. Thompson Sowers, Mr. Will Bowles, Mr. Eljah Bowles, Mr. Roy Mitchell.

The pair moderated the pace considerably after the first nine laps. Dorando maintained a lead of two yards throughout the first two miles. The time of the second mile was 10:37.
